FlexTime Manager
Personalized Activity Periods

EDUSPIRE SOLUTIONS

FlexTime Manager for Unprecedented Variety and Flexibility

Seamless activity period management without the hassle!

Teachers create and schedule their own activities for students to choose from

Enjoy a dynamically updating, truly integrated attendance-taking experience

"FlexTime Manager is ideal for scheduling FIT time in my school. This product looks good and is easy for the end user to use; it also suits our needs.
— Texas high school librarian

"This product allows admins to see where students are during the day. It allows students to choose their location and create their own schedule. It links to the SIS system for record keeping and data tracking."
— California instructional coach

Effortlessly create and manage multiple activities including:

- Regular activities (open to all)
- Closed activities (for special groups)
- Academic & extracurricular activities
- Student remediation

"FlexTime Manager could solve our problems with advisory periods and make managing tutoring much easier, because it allows for scheduling of students during the advisory period. It also allows for creation of tutoring groups."
— Texas middle school CIC

"We are using FlexTime to meet our needs for interventions at our middle school."
— Pennsylvania assistant principal

Easy-to-use peer tutoring (P2P) module

Increases students serving other students

Simple, one-click peer-to-peer tutoring module matches qualified student tutors to those seeking help

"FlexTime Manager would provide us with a great way to schedule the choice/tutoring days we have for advisory. This product would streamline scheduling of the students' flex time. I really like how this allows for teachers to make tutoring groups and pull in students as needed. I also like how this product gives the students choice."
— Texas middle school teacher

Lowers the stigma associated with remediation

Offering different academic activities during the same period boosts global participation so that individual students aren't singled out. Remediation needs are handled seamlessly

"I would recommend FlexTime Manager for after-school activities. It would allow students to choose their activity for flexible instructional time. This way students who normally do nothing during FIT (because they don't want to read), will be more engaged during those 30 minutes as they could choose an activity based on interest. Teachers could also select students who need tutoring to come during that time."
— Texas high school teacher

"I would use FlexTime Manager to differentiate for my students — they will know what they need and can work at their own pace. I love the online collaboration, the fact that the app runs on all web platforms, iOS, and Android, and I think it could work with all classes."
— Texas middle school teacher

Additional features and thoughtful programming make life easy!

- Optional notifications when activities are canceled or moved
- Seven different levels of priority management

"I run both student government and leadership classes after school and this would allow me to better notify students and parents of meetings, as well as keep track of who shows up."
— Florida high school teacher

Get started today! Visit flextimemanager.com to watch an introductory video, or contact us to schedule your own live online demo. Toll free: 855-EDUSPIRE