

FlexTime Manager Simplifies the Lives of Teachers and Administrators

Seamless activity period management without the hassle!

Teachers create their own activities based on when they want to offer them and what capacity they have, and can add any student, anytime

"This product does exactly what it sets out to do: make the scheduling of flexible classes easier for administrators, teachers and students to accomplish."

— California teacher

"Seems to solve the seating, period, and teacher requirements for student schedules within my district."

— California instructional leader

Principals and administrators enjoy effortless management of all students

FlexTime Manager's real-time dashboard display means principals know where students are at all times

"An extraordinary real-time activities management program where students can select the activities in which they'll be involved. Information is immediately available to the entire school community. The advisor for each activity knows who is interested and attending. This allows for follow-up with reluctant students, getting them more engaged in the school community."

— Florida high school department chair

FlexTime Manager makes it easy to stay organized!

FlexTime Manager makes it possible to keep all student activity and data organized in one location

"It keeps me on track, even in a hectic world."

— California-based online charter school admin

"I recommend this product because it allows teachers to keep students, student activities, and data organized all in one location."

— Florida elementary school teacher

Teachers love the dynamically updating attendance data!

Easily take attendance online while data from SIS is shared onto rosters

"I would recommend this product as it is a great tool to easily schedule flexible enrichment periods or other types of classes. Teachers and students will find it easy to use, and it integrates with AERIES."

— California teacher

Teacher override capability

Teachers can place students in mandatory activity slots anytime, regardless of what the student has selected

Facilitates easier remediation, timeliness of make-up work, and improved communication between teachers and students

"Teachers can assign make-up activities for absent students that would override their extracurricular activities, helping students to remember that they need to complete academic work first."

— Florida high school department chair

"I would recommend FlexTime Manager for enrichment activities, clubs, scheduling tutoring, and retests. It's a great organizational tool, with the ability to set room capacity and to 'override' a student's activity choice if needed."

— Texas school district ICS

Get started today! Visit flextimemanager.com to watch an introductory video, or contact us to schedule your own live online demo. Toll free: 855-EDUSPIRE